ZONING AND LAND USE

B3, B2 and R3 districts

Requirements considered in the concept: non-residential buildings must be set back no less than 15 feet from the edge of right-of-way. If a building has a mixture of commercial downstairs and residential upstairs, it must meet minimum yard requirements as listed in the R-3 District (Section 12.05.213 of the Code).

The B-3 District allows for a maximum Floor Area Ratio of 70% for offices or up to 80% for other uses. Residential uses are permitted as an accessory to a commercial use, provided that the residential FAR does not exceed the commercial FAR, does not exceed 50% of the property, and is located behind or above commercial use.

- B3 – Business District: commercial retail, offices, multi-family residential
- B2 – Business District: commercial recreational facilities
- R3 – Residential: medium density residential, multi-family dwellings, hotels or motel
