SUMMARY

Financial overview

The portfolio demonstrates a stable income-producing profile with immediate cash flow and moderate yield performance.

Generating approximately $32,311 in monthly rental income, the assets collectively produce $387,732 annually, providing investors with consistent revenue from day one.

- Strong yield variance across properties (opportunity to optimize returns)
- Some properties performing at higher cap rates (~6–7.8%), suggesting upside potential
- Portfolio includes a mix of long-term rentals (LTR) and short-term (Airbnb-type) income assumptions

INVESTOR POSITIONING

A stabilized income platform

Not just a property acquisition, but a stabilized income platform with built-in upside through operational optimization.

Family offices	Seeking yield + appreciation
Private equity	Building SFR portfolios
1031 exchange buyers	Private investors seeking turnkey assets

4431 ROCK HILL LOOP, APOPKA

Immediate cash flow. 100% occupancy ensures day-one income, and an established rent roll reduces lease-up risk.

Strong rental demand. Central Florida continues to benefit from population growth (1k – 1.5k weekly), migration trends and a favorable landlord environment.

Portfolio diversification. Spread across multiple Florida submarkets (Apopka, Maitland, Davenport, Port Orange), with a mix of long-term and short-term rentals.

Investment-ready asset. At roughly $5M, the portfolio size fits family offices, private equity, and investor or 1031 exchange buyers.

CONCLUSION

Next steps

- Strong income-producing portfolio: real income, stabilized occupancy, suited to passive income
- Risk management: optimize on increases in rent/lease, with strong property management
- High potential for institutional buyers: positioned as a high-value, stabilized portfolio
